

Appendix C: Sensitive Images - Warning Shows Extreme Violence

As noted some of the video and images collected in the course of our investigation contain graphic depictions of extreme violence and documents the desecration of human bodies. For readability and out of respect for the victims and their families, we have elected to modify versions of some images in the main body of the text and to separate the most graphic images for examination by readers with a special interest in the probative value of the imagery for further investigation.
